

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Noncommunicable Diseases in Global Health Course

The Makerere University Non-Communicable Disease (MakNCD) Research Training Program is pleased to host the Noncommunicable Diseases in Global Health course on behalf of the University of Washington Global Health E-Learning Program.

This course is designed to Tackle one of the greatest health challenges of our time. Explore the global impact of noncommunicable diseases and learn how to lead change where it matters most. Build the knowledge and tools to design evidence-based interventions that improve health for all.

We invite interested participants to apply for this exciting learning opportunity.

How to Apply

Access the application form here:

<https://t.ly/KWSp0>

NEW USERS:

Create an EDGH account before applying.

RETURNING USERS:

Log in using your existing EDGH account credentials.

or scan this QR code to apply

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

After logging in:

- Select "Site Participants" as the application category.
- Choose Makerere University Lung Institute as your site.
- Indicate that the course costs will be covered by the site host.

APPLICATION DEADLINES

MONDAY
10th
AUGUST 2026

INQUIRIES

For any questions or concerns, please contact us at;
makncdtraining@gmail.com
or the Site Coordinator,

Dr. Charles Batte
dr.cbatte@gmail.com