

Medical Education for Equitable Services to All Ugandans Consortium (MESAU)

Description

The MESAU Consortium is a country-wide partnership of Busitema University, Gulu University, Kampala International University, Makerere University and Mbarara University of Science and Technology in Uganda with Johns Hopkins University support to catalyse capacity and performance enhancements in medical education and relevant research with a focus on excellent, nationwide service delivery.

Vision

Medical education for equitable service delivery to All Ugandans

Goal

To develop MESAU institutions as centres of excellence for medical education, research and service that address local and national needs to improve health in Uganda.

Mission

The MESAU Consortium exists to strengthen country-wide institutional collaboration and to foster transformative, innovative medical education and research founded on strong sustainable institutional systems and social accountability. In doing this, MESAU will increase the number and retention of high quality committed health workers capable of addressing Uganda's health priorities through excellent service in under-served areas in order to improve health outcomes for Uganda and beyond.
